

Tuesday, 19 December de 2023

Listening to Voices from Africa

An ensemble of 6 readers-actors composed of (former) students of English Studies, Nogay Ndiaye, Kelly Ogbemor, Oriol Solé, Clara Serés, Josep Salud and Sanae Ouazarf, presented the staged reading "Listening to Voices from Africa", based on 10 literary texts by African male and female writers. The activity, co-organized by the research group CELCA, the Department of Foreign Languages and Literatures, and Lleida's Public Library, has been the second action of dissemination associated with the exhibition "African Writers", which opened in November and will remain on display at the Library until January. The staged reading, directed by Núria Casado, included the special collaboration of Jordi Cano as a musician and of Kelly Ogbemor as a singer.

