

Round table on the role of literature and education

International Week a FEPTS de la UdL

On the 18th of November, within the International Week programme at the Faculty of Education, Psychology and Social Work of the UdL, lecturers Núria Casado and Maricel Oró co-organized a round table on the role of literature and education with former students of English Studies and the MA's degree for Teachers of Secondary Education (in English) as speakers, together with teachers of Primary- and Early-Childhood Education. The conference, which was attended by teachers and students of the Bilingual Degree in Primary Education, concluded with a staged reading of poems by students of the subject 'Children's Literature in English for the Primary Classroom'.

Program.pdf [

The poster for FEPTS International Week 2024 features a vibrant, abstract design with overlapping circles in shades of blue, orange, and yellow. A laptop keyboard is visible in the upper right, and a book is shown in the center. The text is in a clean, sans-serif font. A button in the top right corner says 'Descargar imagen'. The main title is 'FEPTS International Week 2024' in large, bold letters, followed by the subtitle 'Empowering Professional Identities in Education, Psychology and Social Work'. The poster is divided into two columns for Day 1 (18 November) and Day 2 (19 November), each with a 'Welcome' section and a list of events. At the bottom, there are logos for FEPTS, UdL, and other participating organizations, along with social media icons for Facebook, Twitter, and Instagram.

Descargar imagen

FEPTS International Week 2024

Empowering Professional Identities in Education, Psychology and Social Work

Day 1: 18 November

9.50h Welcome

10h Conference: "Teaching and learning at the intersection of language and the arts" by Emilee Moore, Universitat Autònoma de Barcelona.

11h Break

11.30h Round Table: "Literature and theatre experiences in the primary, secondary and university classroom". Chair: Núria Casado (Lecturer in the degrees of Primary Education and English Studies)

Sanae Ouazarf (BA in English Studies): Theatrical experiences as an undergraduate: Theatre Workshop in English and a staged reading of African literature

Antonieta Aldabó i Karen Llena (Headteacher and teacher of foreign languages at Lleidat: Escola Sant Jaume): The importance of literature and foreign languages in Early Childhood and Primary Education

Milo Morales (BA in Primary Education – Bilingual Modality): Writing a TFG on literature and education

Julia Cruz (MA in Teacher Training for Secondary School (specialized in English): Educating through Theatre of the Oppressed and other forms of theatrical training

Guillem Mas and Núria Casado (BA in English Studies and PhD student at the Department of Foreign Languages and Literatures): Theatrical experiences as a researcher: educational interventions to promote anti-ageism

Maricel Oró (Lecturer in the degrees of Primary Education and English Studies): Nobel Prizes for Literature in English: a travelling exhibition

12.45h Poetry reading by students of Minor in English (Children's Literature in English)

In Zona Baixa FEPTS (12h - 14h):

International Marketplace, by Consell de l'Estudiantat- FEPTS.

Exhibitions: "Nobel Prizes for Literature in English" and "Poetry Collage: Interventions by Students of Children's Literature in English"

Day 2: 19 November

9.50h Welcome

10h Conference: "El mar de la indiferencia, una mirada a la movilidad humana desde el origen", by Mateo Avarín (graduated in Social Education and Law degrees).

11h Break

11.30h Conference: "National Identity and Immigration in Contemporary Quebec: Composing Majority and Minority Perspectives", by Antoine Bilodeau, Concordia University - Montreal (Quebec, Canada).

13h "Programa de Mobilitat Solidària i Voluntariat-UdL" by Unitat de Cooperació i Solidaritat de la UdL.

In Zona Baixa FEPTS (12h - 14h):

International Marketplace, by Consell de l'Estudiantat- FEPTS.

Exhibitions: "Nobel Prizes for Literature in English" and "Poetry Collage: Interventions by Students of Children's Literature in English"

/export/sites/Delile/ca/.galleries/Documents-word-i-pdf/International-Week-FEPTS-UdL_DIG-1.pdf
]