'Solitud a Stromboli' shown at HB Studio in New York

The piece Solitud a Stromboli by Núria Casado Gual has been shown at the HB Studio this October, after having been selected by the Ramon Llull Institute to promote Catalan theatre in New York. On the 18th of October the play's director, Imma Colomer, the actor Fina Rius, and Núria Casado Gual as the play's author participated in the talkback session online that was offered to the HB Studio community, together with members of the production Solitud. Both plays, which opened at the Teatre Nacional de Catalunya in 2020, closed the programme that this emblematic acting school dedicated to Catalan theatre this year.
